ANNEX I

Common rules for national control programmes, as referred to in Article 3(1)Objectives

1. The general objective of the national control programmes shall be the verification of compliance with applicable legislation concerning:
 - (a) quantitative restrictions on catches and any specific conditions associated therewith, including the monitoring of quota uptake;
 - (b) annual fishing plans referred to in Council Regulation (EC) No 1559/2007;
 - (c) all documents required by the legislation applicable to bluefin tuna, in particular verifying the reliability of the information recorded;
 - (d) specific technical measures and conditions for fishing for bluefin tuna as provided for in Council Regulation (EC) No 1559/2007, specifically the application of minimum size rules and associated conditions.
2. The specific objective of the national control programmes shall be to achieve the harmonised implementation of the full provisions of the bluefin tuna recovery plan, established by Regulation (EC) No 1559/2007.

Strategy

The national control programme shall concentrate on control and inspection of fishing and all related activities by any fishing vessel, trap, farm and enterprise engaged in the processing and/or trade of bluefin tuna products.

Inspections of transport and marketing of bluefin tuna shall be used as a complementary cross-checking mechanism to test the efficiency of the control and inspection.

1.1. Priorities

Different gear categories shall be subject to different levels of prioritisation, according to the annual fishing plan. For that reason, each Member State shall set specific priorities.

1.2. Target benchmarks

By 1 April 2008, Member States shall set up their inspection schedules taking into account the following inspection and control benchmark:

Place of inspection	Benchmark
Inspection at sea	Flexible benchmark, to be set after a detailed analysis of the fishing activity in each area. Benchmarks at sea shall refer the number of patrol days at sea in the bluefin tuna recovery zone, with possibly a separate benchmark for days patrolling specific areas.
Landings	All vessels entering a designated port for the purpose of landing bluefin tuna shall be controlled. Random checks shall be done in non designated ports.
Transshipments	All receiving and catching vessels entering a designated port for the purpose of transshipment operations involving bluefin tuna shall be controlled. Random checks shall be done in non designated ports.
Caging activities (including harvest)	Each caging operation and harvesting process shall be controlled.
Marketing	Control of 10 % of the quantities of bluefin tuna products offered for sale.
Aerial surveillance	Flexible benchmark, to be set after a detailed analysis of the fishing activity conducted in each area and taking into consideration the available resources at the Member State's disposal.
Sport and Recreational Fisheries	Control of 20 % of the national allocated quota.

Inspection tasks

1.3. General inspection tasks

An inspection report shall be drawn up for each control and inspection, with the information appended to this Annex. Inspectors shall in any case verify and note in their report the following information:

- (a) the details of the identity of the responsible persons, as well as those of the vessel, farm personnel etc. involved in the activities inspected;
- (b) the authorisations, licences and special fishing permits;
- (c) relevant vessel documentation such as the logbooks, transfer and transshipment declarations, T2Ms, ICCAT Statistical and Catch documents, and other documentation examined for the purpose of the control and inspection;
- (d) detailed observation of the sizes of bluefin tuna caught, trapped, transferred, transhipped, landed, transported, farmed, processed or traded in the context of compliance with the provisions of the recovery plan.

The information referred to all relevant findings from the inspection done at sea, by aerial surveillance, in ports, traps, farms or in any other enterprise concerned shall be noted in the inspection reports.

Those findings shall be compared with the information made available to the inspectors by other competent authorities, including Vessel Monitoring System (VMS) information and lists of authorised vessels.

1.4. Inspection tasks for aerial surveillance

Inspectors shall report on surveillance data for cross-checking purposes, and in particular verify sightings of fishing vessels against VMS and authorised lists.

Inspectors shall sight and report on IUU fishing activities, and on the use of spotting aircrafts or helicopters.

Particular attention shall be devoted to closure areas, and to the activities of fleets for which derogations apply.

1.5. Inspection tasks at sea

Where dead fish are taken onboard the catching vessel or are present aboard a processing or a transport vessel, inspectors shall always verify the quantities of fish retained on board and compare them with the quantities recorded in the relevant documentation on board.

Where live fish are being transferred from catching vessels to transport tugs or from transport tugs into farming installations, inspectors should seek to identify the means used by the parties involved to estimate the quantities of live bluefin tuna transferred. Where video footage is available, inspectors should gain access to, and verify the quantities transferred, as observed by the video footage.

1.8. Inspection tasks on farm installations

Inspectors shall systematically verify:
